ROMANCE'S GLORIFYING TOUCH.

Romance is an artist, with colors all its own. When it paints under the influence of true love, it glorites even the most prosaic object that comes under its treatment. An old blue churn and an ancient wooden butter dish of duil red are the latest to catch its halo tints, and in the love chronicles of Ararat township, which the | way until next year, I observe that his worksame is in Pennsylvania, they will go down as sacred offerings to the amatory

'Know by this sign that the old man is at home," was the word of fair ELO:s: to stalwart PHILIP. And then she placed the blue churn high on the wood pile outside the farm-house door, and PHILIP knew she couldn't be with him at the tryst.

MARION HARLAND says: "I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best in the market. Since its introduction into my kitchen I have used no other."

"Mascotte" in German at Terrace Garden-Carmencita's Last Week.

The week at the theatres has opened ausptclousty, cool nights giving a stimulus to busiess that is very pleasing to the box-offices. There is no change of bill at the houses devoted to comic opera. The "Grand Duchess" continues to attract large audiences to the Russell's engagement is so near the pretty opera could profitably run much longer.

The "Tar and Tartar" last night had its seventy-eighth performance. It has been Manager Askin's intention until recently to bring the run of the "Tar and Tartar" to a close Sept. 5, but in view of the success the opera has achieved, both he and Mr. Palmer are any lous for more time. Negotiations have already begun with Julian Magnus, Marie Wainwright's manager, who was to have opened Sept. 7, and it is highly probable the Tar " will hold the boards until December. "Wang" shows no sign of diminution in "Wang," shows no sign of diminiution in popularity, and be Wolf Hopper and his merry company are looking forward to the one hundredth performance of the opera Aug. 14 with unalloyed Joy. The Broadway, with the rattan chairs and pure atmosphere, has not needed cooler nights to make it comfort-able, but nevertheless the change in weather is appreciated.

Richard Mansfeld reopened the Garden Theatre last bight with "Prince Karl," which will be repeated to-sight. To-morrow night "Beau Brunnell" will be given. Mr. Mans-feld appears much refreshed by his two weeks' variation and was received by a good-sized audience. sized audience. A series of Composer's Nights are being given by Theodore Thomas at the Madison square Garden. To-night, a Beethoven pro-gramme will be given. Mr. Thomas's season here closes about the middle of August.
